Meet Morgan (she/they) Community Room Specialist

Morgan brings over 10 years of community-care work, from human and social services to activism and mutual aid. But what makes Morgan especially valuable is her intuitive ability to read a room and truly meet people where they're at. Recently, Morgan's added end-of-life doula training to her ever-expanding arsenal of community-care skills.

When Morgan isn't working, you'll likely find her spending time with loved ones, volunteering at hospice, reading, walking in the forest, or dancing to live music.

Meet Shane (he/they) Member Outreach Coordinator

Community and service work captivated Shane as a teen. Since then, he's been a nonprofit "jack-of-all-trades," serving on boards, producing community and regional theater, organizing events, and doing loads of educational and activism work — all while keeping day jobs as a server, bartender, or licensed massage therapist.

When Shane's not at work, you can find them hiking, bicycling, or seeking out some sort of Portland whimsy with his partner, Alec, and dog, Frodo.
